NEW TEACHER

Miss Marguerite Caton

Miss Caton is a native of Clay City, Indiana. She was graduated from Clay City High School in 1935, from Indiana University with a degree as bachelor of public school music in 1940, and a master's degree in music in 1945. She has taught eight years, and has been supervisor of music at Mitchell, Indiana.

Miss Caton will have charge of the vocal music in Greencastle High School and supervise the music in the grade schools.

While in attendance at Indiana University she was a member of Alpha Lambda Delta. She was chosen for Phi Lambda Theta and Sigma Alpha Iota. She was graduated "with honors" in 1940. She is a member of the Methodist Church.

USO Drive In County Planned

John Hammond, chairman, announced Wednesday that a campaign will be held in Putnam county in October for the purpose of raising USO funds to entertain Indiana's 31,766 men in the armed forces who are being trained for national defense.

Only seven months after the wartime USO had received an honorable discharge from President Truman, it was called back into service by the government because of the large, new military personnel undergoing training. Of the 31,766 Indiana men in service, 148 of them are from Putnam county.

The USO will again offer spiritual and welfare service to all boys while they are away from home in training. In addition to the USO clubs, lounge and mobile units in operation near the lovely and overcrowded camps, the USO now provides Veterans Hospitals Camp Shows which bring professional entertainment to the 120 Veterans Hospital in our country where 100,000 of our boys and girls are trying to recover their health.

Mr. Hammond has selected four other young veterans and business men to assist him in the USO drive. They are: Hal Hickman, vice chairman; Gene Matthews, secretary; Ben Cannon, treasurer; C. B. Hammond, publicity.

Bevin And Cripps
In U. S. Capital

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (UP)—British Foreign Secretary Bevin said today the idea of Britain being allowed to spend Marshall Plan dollars anywhere "sound rather good."

Bevin and Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps arrived here at 7:15 a. m. after an overnight trip from New York to participate in the dollar crisis conference with the United States and Canada.

The foreign secretary was told that Canada's Finance Minister Douglas C. Abbott yesterday said he would favor Britain having a free ECA dollar to spend anywhere.

"I would like to have a talk with him," Bevin said. "It sounds rather good."

Bevin said he could add nothing to his remarks made after his arrival on the Mauretania from England last night. At that time he said Britain was not asking for further grants on an aid basis.

ROACHDALE WOMAN
FILES FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Clara E. Long, of Roachdale, has filed suit for divorce in circuit court, from George N. Long. They were married July 9, 1922 and separated February 28, 1949.

The plaintiff asks $1,000 alimony; custody of four minor children; $30 per week support money, and all other proper relief. Rexell A. Boyd is her attorney.

SPENT 16 DAYS IN AN IRON LUNG

Bob Hutchins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hutchins of Roachdale, is shown above in the iron lung in which he spent 16 days after being stricken with polio. The picture was taken at the Robert Long hospital in Indianapolis. Young Hutchins, a former Roachdale basketball star and also a regular on the Wabash College net team, has been out of the iron lung for several days now and is recovering "slowly but surely."

WAYNE HOPKINS WITH RECTOR FUNERAL HOME

Charles Rector announced today that Wayne Hopkins, of near Noblesville, is now connected with the Rector Funeral Home, succeeding Cecil Perkins who has gone to Roachdale.

Mr. Hopkins is a licensed embalmer, coming here from Indianapolis. Mrs. Hopkins is the former Roberta Newgent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newgent of this city.

Ponder School
Loan Funds

The Putnam County Council had under consideration yesterday and today the matter of the state loaned funds to Putnam county for school fund loans.

Originally this fund was loaned to the county for reloaning to Putnam county citizens. The county pays the state four percent interest and at present a total of $69,267 remains unloaned in the fund. This is costing the county about $4,000 annually in interest fees.

The council was debating whether or not to turn the unloaned portion or any part of it back to the state in order to not pay interest on it.

Detroit Driver
Fined Tuesday

Failure to stop for a school bus which was unloading students proved costly to Jesse Griffin of Detroit, Mich., late Tuesday afternoon.

Griffin was traveling east on road 36 when a school bus stopped about a mile west of Bainbridge. Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hart were getting off the bus as Griffin approached.

The motorist did not stop and the children had to jump out of the way. Griffin swerved to avoid hitting them and his car went into the ditch.

Lieut. Raub and Sgt. Foltz of the Putnamville State Police Post investigated. Griffin was arrested for reckless driving and brought to Greencastle where he was fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace O. T. Ellis. Griffin's car was also damaged, police said.

Local Church

The sum of $1,000 is left to the building fund of the First Christian church in the will of Mrs. Gertrude A. Hutcheson, who passed away recently.

The will, filed in probate in the Putnam circuit court, appoints the Central National Bank as executor. It was dated February 2, 1948 and witnessed by C. C. Gillen and Nelle F. Gillen.

A nephew, John R. Torr, is left the sum of $2,000 and Glen I. Daggy, nephew of Mrs. Hutcheson's deceased husband, also receives $2,000.

The will stipulates that household goods and personal effects be divided equally among her sisters, Fannie Torr and Mary I. Bond, and children of her deceased brother, John R. King.

The executor is empowered and authorized to sell real estate in Greencastle township and the money from this sale and all other sources be divided equally among those mentioned above.

A 135-acre farm in Washington township is bequeathed to Philip B. Hutcheson, brother of her deceased husband. Upon his death, the farm is to be sold and the net proceeds divided among Fannie Torr, Mary Bond and the children of John R. King, deceased.

PUTNAM COURT NOTES

Olive Sutherland vs. Chet Flake, complaint for possession of real estate. Gillen & Lyon are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Hurst Sheep Are Shown In Magazine

The September issue of "The Sheepman," official magazine of the registered sheep breeders of the country, has been received by local breeders and the front cover is taken up with a beautiful winter scene picture of the Suffolk sheep on the farm of William A. Hurst, south of Greencastle.

The magazine says the Illinois State Fair reports, "No chilly winds may blow, but this wasn't taken at the show—let's call it 'Suffolks on the Snow Circuit'."

MAD GUNMAN'S
TOLL OF DEAD
CLIMBS TO 13CRAZED VETERAN CREATED REIGN OF TERROR IN CAMDEN, N. J.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 7.—(INS)—Howard B. Unruh calmly described today his "revenge" shooting spree that took the lives of 13 persons, and his story of wanton mass murder made authorities determined that he should die for his crimes.

District Attorney Mitchell H. Cohen declared that the Bible-reading, sharp-shooting war veteran stayed almost emotionless during an all-night grilling. He said "every effort will be made" to send him to the electric chair.

The prosecutor declared he will resist any effort to have the 28-year-old gunman declared insane. Cohen said Unruh's only expression of regret or remorse was that three children were included among his victims. Two youngsters were killed instantly. The third, John Wilson, 9, died early today.

During the long interrogation, Unruh told the district attorney and police:

"The neighbors have been picking on me for months and when I came home Monday night and found my gate (leading to his apartment) had been broken I decided to shoot all of them so that I would get the right one."

Later Unruh went through another interrogation by psychiatrists but no announcement was made whether they believe Unruh insane.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 7.—A 12-year-old boy died today—the 13th person slaughtered by religious fanatic Howard Unruh in his vengeance against storekeepers whom he considered the "moneychangers" of the neighborhood. He wounded three others.

John Wilson died in Cooper hospital 18 hours after Unruh killed 16 men, women and children in a 20-minute shooting spree that turned a quiet residential section into a scene of blood and terror.

The three remaining injured—a woman and two boys—were still in the hospital but their condition was not critical.

The Wilson boy, his mother and grandmother were shot while they sat in an automobile waiting for a traffic light. The two women were killed instantly with single shots.

Unruh told police his resentment against the neighborhood storekeepers, the druggist, the shoemaker, the barber and the tailor—drove him to the killings.

"The neighbors had been talking about me for some time and making derogatory remarks about my character," Unruh told police. "I had been thinking about killing them for some time."

Police said neighbors told them the 27-year-old Unruh "hated everybody, especially storekeepers whom he referred to as 'money changers'."

Unruh, who turned a Camden street into a scene of carnage yesterday with 20 minutes of

EXTRA!

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—(UP)—A pretty Dallas, Tex., debutante was killed and her escort seriously injured when they fell from one deck to another aboard a Boston-bound liner at sea, it was revealed today.

The American Export Lines, operators of the passenger liner Excelsior, said that Miss Adrienne Atwell, granddaughter of a federal judge, died "in spite of all efforts of three doctors aboard."

Robert M. Willard, 21, a Dallas student, suffered head injuries in the accident Saturday and was in a coma for three days. He will be hospitalized as soon as the Excelsior arrives at Boston tonight, the line announced.

A lines spokesman here said that Miss Atwell and Willard "apparently fell or slipped" from the boat deck to the promenade deck—about nine feet. There was no storm at the time.

"They were apparently together when they fell," he added.

The accident occurred at 12:20 a. m. CST Saturday and Miss Atwell died of her injuries at 1:45 a. m. CST, yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—(INS)—A spectacular four-alarm fire threatened towering Philadelphia skyscrapers and hotels today as it gutted an empty six-story building close by.

A minor fire was ignited at the nearby St. James Hotel and the St. Francis Hotel said smoke will cause extensive damage. Just before noon, the fire raged on, spreading to a restaurant and bar near the empty, gutted structure.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (UP)—Sen. John Foster Dulles, R., N. Y., announced today he will be a candidate in the special November election to fill the unexpired term of former Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner.

Wagner resigned two months ago because of poor health, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey named Dulles to serve pending the special election.

In announcing he will be a candidate for the rest of the term which expires next year, Dulles pledged his efforts to stop "a growing tendency to statism."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(UP)—The White House today said a presidential fact-finding board in the threatened nationwide steel strike will submit its report to President Truman by Sept. 10.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said he did not believe anyone knew exactly when the report would be received at the White House, but he said the board would attempt to beat the Sept. 10 deadline.

According to the White House the Steel Board is expected here from New York Friday and will report to the President Saturday morning. It was emphasized, however, that this is a highly tentative plan.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Navy undersecretary Kimball declared today that he would have "suspended or court-martialed" anyone known to have aided in preparing the "anonymous document" which attacked the B-36 bomber program.

Kimball said he had no knowledge that his own special assistant had written the document until this was brought out at congressional hearings. The assistant, Cedric R. Worth, was immediately suspended.

The undersecretary appeared as a witness before a high navy court of inquiry investigating the origin of the charges that attacked a Congressional investigation of the B-36 program.

Kimball said he wished to correct a statement he made to the House Armed Services Committee, that he asked navy intelligence to probe the matter late in April.

He said upon checking his notes he found that he made this request late in May, and that he made it through Adm. John D. Price of navy operations rather than to navy intelligence directly.

ALBEN BARKLEY
ASKS PRIVACY
FROM NEWSMENVICE PRESIDENT WANTS REPORTERS TO "LAY-OFF" COURTSHIP

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7.—(UP)—Vice-President Alben W. Barkley made it clear today that he wants newsmen to stop cramping style while he woos Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, attractive St. Louis widow who is 35 years his junior.

The romantically-minded 72-year-old "veep" had three reporters and five photographers given a polite but firm bum's rush from the swank starlight roof of the Chase Hotel where he took Mrs. Hadley, who is 37, dancing last night.

"This is my private life, and I don't want you to interfere with it," Barkley told one photographer.

At one point the newsmen engaged in an argument with 12 waiters who laid hands on some of them while threatening to eject them bodily from the nightclub. The scene started when the floor show was on.

Barkley, who has visited the widow since Sunday, planned to leave this afternoon for Springfield, Ill., where he will unveil a bust of Benjamin Franklin tomorrow. It was understood that Mrs. Hadley would not accompany him.

Last night was the couple's first date in public during his current visit here. Barkley himself made the arrangements to spend the evening with a group of friends at the night spot.

The vice-president was duded up in a white dinner coat, black tie and striped trousers. Mrs. Hadley wore a flowered marine green dinner dress, a black Juliet cap and a tea rose in her hair.

The couple slipped up to the roof by a rear elevator. Barkley had asked the orchestra to play "certain numbers" upon their entrance. But he was thwarted because they entered while the floor show was on.

The songs Barkley requested were "My Old Kentucky Home," a reference to the Paducah homestead he will take Mrs. Hadley to when and if they marry, and "Some Enchanted Evening," the number that has become "their song" since their romance began. He has requested the song several times on their recent dates. He also wanted the band to play "Wagon Wheels."

As they joined their party, News photographers took several pictures. Reporters stood nearby, waiting for an opportunity to interview the couple.

A few minutes later, the headwaiter, followed by 12 waiters, approached the newsmen and asked them to leave "or be carried out."

Several waiters grabbed some of the newsmen by the arms. The newsmen refused to go and House Officer James Evasi argued with them loudly, diverting the attention of the audience from the floor show.

Hotel Manager Harold Koplar told the photographers and reporters that Barkley himself had asked them to leave.

Seeks Backing Of Federal Employees

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Democratic National Committeeman Frank M. McHale is attempting to line up the 27,600 federal employees in Indiana behind the senatorial candidacy of Alex Campbell, assistant attorney general, it was learned today.

McHale is circulating the word that President Truman favors Campbell's nomination at the Democratic state convention next year because he rallied to the Truman candidacy during the dark days when defeat seemed certain.

Campbell traveled over the nation making speeches for the President when a host of other party leaders were "taking a walk."

On the other hand, McHale is spreading word that the President frowns upon the candidacy of former Senator Samuel D. Jackson because he feels that Jackson, a 1944 gubernatorial candidate, gave little support to the national ticket when Truman was the vice-presidential nominee.

Both Campbell and Jackson claim Fort Wayne as their home. The importance of the Hoosier federal workers in the state political picture has been underlined in the past by a number of political observers. These employees are scattered over the state and nearly all have influence in their home communities.

In contrast, there are only about 8,000 persons on the state pay roll and their boss, Governor Henry F. Schricker has always seemed reluctant to use them politically. Only a few days ago he said he was no candidate for senator.

The governor also has announced that he does not aspire to the 1950 senatorial title, but some politicians do not believe this. They recalled that he spoke similarly just a few months before he accepted the nomination for governor.

There is much interest also in the attempt of the Indiana CIO-PAC to persuade Claude R. Wickard, former Secretary of Agriculture to plunge into the senatorial contest. Wickard, now Federal Rural Electrification administrator, was born in Carroll county, was graduated from Purdue University and served in the State Senate.

Wickard returns often to direct his farming operations, but has not kept in close touch with the politicians who dictate state convention nominations.

There is no doubt that Campbell is the most energetic of the senatorial candidates. He speaks over the state night after night. Tonight he will address the meeting of the American Bar Association in St. Louis.

Also, Campbell probably will be the first Hoosier politician to use television. On Sept. 23, he will appear on a national TV show to be produced in New York.

Called "Legal Forum," the show will feature Campbell and other prominent attorneys in a round table question-and-answer show.

MAD GUNMAN

deliberate murder with a .38 caliber German luger, was to be arraigned on a mass murder charge today. He also was to be questioned further by psychiatrists to determine his sanity.

The slender, six-foot former army tank gunner, who never "drank, swore, smoked or cursed girls," told police he planned yesterday's massacre while sitting through several showings of a double feature at a Philadelphia movie theater. The films are "For You I Die" and "Fear in the Night."

Unruh was kept under heavy police guard at Cooper hospital last night where he underwent a minor operation to remove a police bullet from the fleshy part of his thigh. It was his only injury in the battle yesterday in which he stood off 100 police before being driven to surrender by the use of tear gas.

Unruh's explanation of why he became the greatest mass killer in homicidal history was that he became resentful of his neighbors, the druggist, the shoemaker, the barber and the tailor.

"The druggist, the shoemaker, the barber and the tailor's wife died at his hands along with an insurance man, a television repairman, four women and two small boys."

Few scraps of additional information were available to police seeking the reason for the "resentment" that changed him from a bible-quoting church-goer to a ruthless gunman.

Relatives told Capt. James Mulligan that the only neighborhood dispute in which they knew he was involved was with druggist Maurice Cohen.

Unruh apparently argued with Cohen several months ago when the druggist erected a picket fence which blocked Unruh from crossing a back yard to enter the second floor apartment occupied by him and his mother.

Cohen was the seventh person killed in the massacre.

His brother and sister blamed the outburst on his World War II army service in which he saw combat in Italy, Austria, Germany, France and Belgium.

Mrs. Miller Hostess To Clinton Falls W. S. C. S.

The Clinton Falls W. S. C. S. met with Mrs. Willard Miller September 1st. The work for the day was working on rug rugs. At the noon hour there was a wonderful pitch-in dinner spread on the long table in the dining room. Rev. J. E. Porter gave thanks.

After noon the president, Mrs. Enid Bock, called the house to order for the business meeting by singing "When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder." Mrs. Wilma Cruse read the scripture lesson. Lida Pierce offered prayer after which was a discussion concerning the Fall Fair. Roll called and answered by what we liked to can best.

Guests were Mrs. Hattie Butler, Mrs. Ira Moore and son and daughter, Mrs. John Moore of Greencastle. There were thirty men, women and children present. All left at a late hour thanking Mrs. Miller for her kind hospitality.

The next meeting will be the first Thursday in October with Mrs. Helen Martin.

DIES OF SORROW

ATLANTA, Sept. 7 (UP)—Nine-year-old Mary Virginia Long wept bitterly when her father, Hiram Long, 65, died Monday after several months' illness. The rest of the grief-stricken family was unable to console her.

Yesterday the father's body was brought home to remain until the funeral.

Mary Virginia knelt by the casket and sobbed, "Daddy, I don't want you to leave me. I want to go with you." Then she collapsed.

She was rushed to Grady Memorial Hospital, where she was pronounced dead on arrival. Long's funeral, originally planned for today, was postponed until tomorrow. Mary Virginia will be buried with him in a double service.

Plan Meeting At Ernie Pyle Park

A special autumn meeting of the Crawfordville District, Indiana Roadside Council, will be held on Thursday, September 15, at the Ernie Pyle State Park near Dana, Ind. It is to be an all day meeting commencing at 11:00 a. m., Daylight Saving Time.

This meeting which is open to the public, will feature a picnic dinner at noon. Honor guests at the dinner will be Mrs. Mary Bales, Ernie Pyle's Aunt Mary, and Will Pyle, Ernie's father.

A very interesting program has been planned. The Hon. Cecil Hardin, Republican congresswoman, will be the main speaker and her subject will be "Clear Vision" which is the program theme for this meeting.

The work of the Indiana Roadside Council has been the promotion of roadside beautification, and the beautiful roadside plantings in this district are the result of their work.

WATERMELON IN THE STATE. The contest closes Sept. 14.

Jay Collins, Marion, senior and chairman of the search, explained that the grower of the "biggest watermelon" will be invited to be a guest of honor at the frat's annual "Melon Mess"—a get-acquainted campus-wide social Sept. 21.

Collins said that 4,000 to 5,000 students are expected to attend the social and several tons of watermelon will be served.

The winner of the watermelon contest, in addition to being guest of honor, is expected to bring the prize-winning melon! Collins added that Sigma Chi would pay for it, however.

Early Spanish settlers brought with them many of the domesticated animals common throughout the United States today. Among others, they transplanted horses, cattle, sheep, goats, pigs, burros, and cats into the southwest.

modations for you over the weekend. Please wire Mrs. America Contest Committee New York City."

My reply to that two-hundred word invitation is just one word "NO."

There are several reasons.

First, I am a happily married man.

For many years now there has already been, to me at least, a perfectly satisfactory "Mrs. America."

She is pretty and, if I am a judge, getting prettier every year.

She can cook as well as any other "Mrs. America" that may possibly be elected in Asbury Park or anywhere else.

She has "homemaking talents" that, as far as I am concerned, are unsurpassed.

Who is my "Mrs. America"? You will excuse me for not telling you. She is going to read this column and might be too modest to let me send it in to the office.

Furthermore I am fully convinced that there are millions of men in this country who, if they were asked to choose a "Mrs. America," would choose exactly as I did.

Their "Mrs. America" might have a different name.

She might be an altogether different person than the one who is my "Mrs. America."

But it would be that one woman who, to them, above all others has all the beauty, all the homemaking talents and all the culinary accomplishments necessary to make her the No. 1 in any contest.

However, if I had not already planned another trip, I would like to go to Asbury Park and watch the judging of that contest.

I have always liked those wild animal acts in the circus, particularly the ones where the trainer sticks his head into the lion's mouth and comes out unscathed.

At some of the contests I have attended I think the judges would have preferred to stick their heads into the mouth of a lion.

It would have required less courage.

Excuse me, I have to go downstairs. "Mrs. America" is calling me for lunch. There, I told you, after all.

ERICH BRANDEIS

A two-hundred word telegram has just been delivered to me.

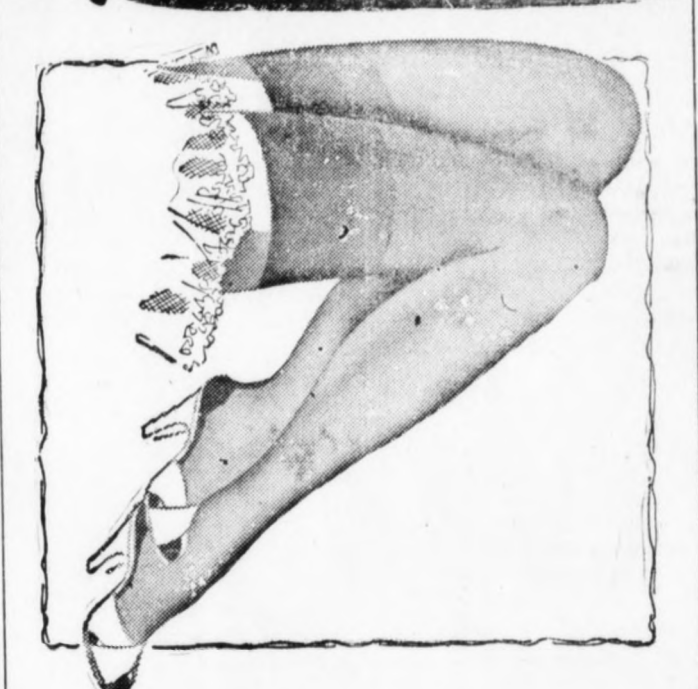

I shall not print it all. Just enough to give you the rough idea.

"Would consider it honor to have you on judges' committee for grand finals of Mrs. American contest Convention Hall Asbury Park New Jersey Saturday night September tenth and Sunday afternoon, September Eleventh. Judging is done on basis of beauty and homemaking talents of contestants and entire idea is to prove that married women are just as pretty as single girls and furthermore they can cook or don't you think so?"

To make the invitation doubly enticing the telegram held out this inducement:

"The grand finals will be televised on Midwestern and Eastern networks if that is an inducement. If you can make it would be happy to arrange hotel accom-

BACK IN FAMILY

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 7—(INS)—An acre of ground, which a Civil War veteran sold for $300 in 1870, today was back in the family after a grandson paid $2,000 for it.

The grandfather was Hamilton Rerick, who had acquired an 80-acre homestead in what is now Portage Township, St. Joseph county, back in 1865. He sold one acre of it five years later for a grade school site.

The old Rockhill school, which occupied the acre, finally was abandoned and pupils sent to other schools. The acre was sold by the township at a public auction. Howard D. Rerick, the grandson, was the successful bidder at $2,000—a $1,700 profit for the township.

Howard Rerick explained that he felt the deal was worth it, just to get the missing acre back in the homestead tract, where he now lives.
